NEEDY WILL RECEIVE BASKETS OF PROVISIONS

Free Library Association Lays Plans to Aid Poor

Through the instrumentality of the Charleroi Free Library Association, 25 children will be treated to a supper on Christmas eve—Thursday, December 24—at the library rooms at the corner of Washington avenue and Fifth street, and the same evening baskets of provisions will be distributed to various families where there is likely to be little Christmas celebration. The association, together with several workers who are not members are now receiving donations of baskets full of provisions.

The movement will be one simply to provide poor children with a good square meal, and their mothers too, with something to eat. Names of the most needy ones have been furnished the association, and there will be no duplication or waste if the association can prevent it.

There are 15 families where it is proposed to send baskets. Some of these are in want. One family will probably this year spend its last Christmas together, and a special effort will be made to provide this mother and her children with at least one happy day. Soon after the Christmas holidays the family will be separated in order that the mother and her children may be cared for and live. At another place there are members of a family suffering from the ravages of scarlet fever, and provisions will be left there. At still other places mothers are widows with little money or earning power and in some cases fathers are sick. Only those upon whom fate has laid an unkindly hand and who are suffering through no fault of their own will be aided.

The Free Library association is asking donations that they may be able to better carry out their plan. It is suggested that people willing to contribute baskets of provisions fill them with meat, fruit, potatoes, rice, canned goods or any eatables that would be suitable. Baskets may be left at the reading rooms.

School teachers and Sunday school classes have been offering their aid, and private citizens have promised their assistance. Among those who are leading in the movement are Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. J. K. Smith, and Health Officer W. M. Darby, the latter a member of the investigating committee of the Associated Board of Charities.

Inspection is Announced

Date Set for Review of Company A of Tenth Regiment at Monongahela

All organizations of the National Guard of Pennsylvania will undergo the usual winter inspection by inspecting officers of the regular army during January and February. The dates for the inspections have been announced.

Inspection of Company A, of Monongahela will take place at 8 o'clock, Friday January 22. The inspection of the property and equipment will be made during the daylight.

HOLDUP STORY IS REPEATED

Tony Adamo, a well known Monongahela Italian, told in the office of Alderman John H. Wiper at Monongahela, the particulars in connection with the robbery of Joe Mozanetta, of Charleroi, which took place in Monongahela last Saturday night.

Adamo stated that he and George Ross spent Saturday evening with Mozanetta between a hotel and a pool room. When Mozanetta got ready to return to Charleroi they misinformed him of the time that the street car left so that he would have to walk. They went part way with him to show him the way.

When the three reached Ivil hollow Ross pulled a gun and held up Mozanetta. At the same time he commanded Adamo, on pain of death to search the victim. Adamo located the wallet containing $80.70 and was told to go up the hollow, while Mozanette was told to go in another direction. Ross tried to settle with Adamo for $20, and forced him to accept it.

THIS EDITOR KNOWS HOW TO GET NAMES IN PAPER

Day before yesterday a perfectly nice lady called us up and with tears in her voice reproved us for not mentioning the fact that she had had a friend visiting her last week. We told her that she had not let us know anything about it and that therefore, we did not know that she had a visitor. Then she said, "Well you should have known. I thot you were running a newspaper." Wouldn't that rattle your slats? Some people think that an editor ought to be a cross between Argus and Anna Eva Fay. They seem to think that our five sences are augmented by a sixth that lets us know everything that happens, even if we see, hear, feel, taste or smell it not. Dear lady, editors are only human or at least, almost human. If you have a friend visiting you, if you are going a way, or have returned from a visit out of town, if Johnnie falls and breaks his arm, if your husband chops his toe instead of a stick of wood, if any thing happens that makes you glad, or sad, happy or mad call us up. Tell us agout it. That's the way to get it in the paper.—Finleyville Bulletin.

COAL PLANT TO RESUME SHORTLY

Century Coal and Coke Company at Brownsville to Start Mine First of Year

Information received from reliable sources indicates that the officials of the Century Coal & Coke company are planing to resume operations at their plant near Brownsville to 85 per cent of its capacity commencing January 1 or as soon after that date as possible. The works have been closed for some time and their resumption will mean employment for at least 300 men as a New Year's gift.

Although no official announcement of the resumption of operation has been made, the rumor came from a reliable source and is said to have originated with one of the officers of the company. Should the rumor prove correct at least 300 men who have been idle as the result of the business depression that has swept the country will be given permanent employment. It is expected that an official announcement will be made soon concerning the resumption.

TOO GOOD COKE CONTRACTS FOR CONNELLSVILLE CLOSED

Two additional furnace coke contracts have been closed in the past few days for the Connellsville coke fields, each involving 10,000 tons a month or a trifle more and bringing the total business closed on this movement to approximately 100,000 tons. The summary made a week ago involved a total of between 70,000 and 80,000 tons. Of the latest contracts closed one was for six months, while the other appears to have been for the full year. Both were at flat prices, the price over the year being higher than the price over six months.

PREPARING FOR FARMER'S WEEK

At the last two sessions of Farmers' week at Pennsylvania State College a house was secured through the agricultural bureau where the farmers from Washington county could stay together in a body. This has proved to have several desirable features. It brings the men from the county together and gets them well acquainted. They take their meals together and usually have a number of different instructors and speakers with them at which time the men can bring up their own particular questions to these instructors. Between sessions a very congenial social hour is enjoyed in a large comfortable living room of the fraternity house. This plan is being followed out again this year for Farmers' week beginning Monday, December 28, and the Alpha Zeta House has been secured for the Washington county farmers. Twenty-five members can be accommodated. Additional rooms can be secured near the house and all board together and enjoy the social life.

The program offered this year is more extensive than ever before. At no college in the east is a better arranged or more instructive program offered than at the Pennsylvania State College. Their new dairy barn and stock judging pavilion just completed will be of special interest to many of the live stock men. A special program in domestic science is offered for the first day. This has been arranged by Miss Pearl McDonald, lately employed to do extension work along this line. Lectures and demonstrations will be given in cooking, infant feeding, etc. A special program arranged for boys is another feature.

All those who wish to secure accommodations in the house should leave word with J. M. McKee, Community Building, Washington, Pa. In case more should apply than can be accommodated those who have sent in their names first will be taken care of first.

HOW ABOUT THE BLACKMAILER

There is only one safe attitude to assume toward the blackmailer. No man should yield to such a creature for a moment. Defiance, absolute, complete and lasting, is the only policy one should adopt. The weakling who permits himself to be terrorized into complying with the demands of an adventurer is always at the mercy of that adventurer, proclaims the Altoona Tribune. He will remain a slave to his fears or to the whims of his persecutor all the days of his life unless he raises the banner of revolt and defiance. And since that is the only way to escape why not adopt it upon the threshold and have done with the entire business? Few of us are within seeing distance of perfection. There are incidents in the lives of the majority of which they are ashamed; but there is no reason why an yone should remain in bondage to his fears all his life. The best and safest way to get out of the toils is to make open confession to those interested, if need be, and turn over a new page in the book of life.

WAR NOTES

London, Dec. 19.—There seems no doubt that the Russians are retreating and that for the present any anticipations the allies may have had of an early invasion of Germany must be dismissed. Mystery seems to surround the reported German victory so definite information has been given out. The allies still advance slowly in the west.

Berlin, Dec. 19.—The coincidence of the expedition to the English coast and the victory in the east continues to cause general rejoicing. Military critics say that reports of a decisive victory are for the present senseless and a misleading exaggeration. An army of a million men like the Russian army does not let itself be destroyed under present conditions on a front of several hundred kilometers.

Paris, Dec. 19.—The minister of marine has announced that the British auxiliary cruiser Empress of Japan had captured the collier Oxford having on board three officers and 40 men from the German cruiser Emden sunk by the Austrian cruiser Sydney. These are the 40 men who escaped to Cocos Island and subsequently sailed away in a commandeered schooner.

Berlin, Dec. 19.—Two of the allies aeroplanes flew over Saarburg, Lorraine, at midnight Thursday and dropped ten bombs, which killed an Uhlan corporal and a cavalryman and wounded a servant girl. The town was considerably damaged. Two bombs were also thrown at the railroad station at Rieding and two bombs at the village of Heming. The American Christmas gifts for the children of fallen German soldiers arrived Friday.

Vienna, Dec. 19.—The Austrian foreign office denies reports of great Servian victories and mutiny in several regiments.

Berlin, Dec. 19.—Emperor William will return to the front at once.
